

Life Fundamental$ Financial Literacy Summit

June 22, 2015 (Monday) – 8:30 AM to 3:30 PM

Murray State University – Paducah Regional Campus
4430 Sunset Avenue – Paducah, KY 42001

Teachers/Administrators from grades K-12 welcome! – Price = $25

Register online today at www.econ.org/summit15

Benefits Include:

- Earn 6 hours of professional development
- Receive FREE curriculum resources and materials in each session – including the renowned “Virtual Economics 4.5” ($159.95 value)
- Learn to teach to required consumerism, financial literacy, and economic standards
- Lots of tech sessions (so bring your laptop or tablet!)
- Lunch included
- Concurrent sessions include best practices by experienced teachers, curriculum sponsors, university professors, and financial industry leaders

This Financial Literacy Summit is designed to equip Kentucky educators, grades K-12 with the knowledge, tools and classroom resources to teach students to become financially savvy and be in control of their financial futures.

Brought to you by:

Kentucky Council on Economic Education
Murray State University Center for Economic Education
Murray State University Office of Regional Outreach

in partnership with

Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis - Louisville Branch
Kentucky Department of Financial Institution
Kentucky Jump$tart Coalition and our sponsors

Questions?

Contact Todd Broker @ tbroker@murraystate.edu or Susan Sandage @ susan@econ.org or Joseph Bianca at jfbianca@bellarmine.edu or 502-272-8707.

* This is a special rate available through generous support from MSU. This special rate is only available to the first 50 teachers that register. Teachers that register but do not attend the event will NOT be eligible for this special rate. The regular price for attending is $75 through May 15 and $90 afterwards.

The VE 4.5 curriculum is available through generous support from the MSU Office of Regional Outreach. This offer is only available to the first 50 teachers that register AND attend the full event on June 22, 2015 in Paducah, KY.